Perhaps you now have in mind a new Circular, Price List or Catalogue? Why not this time, in place of simply bundling up your "matter" and sending it off to your printer with the usual sigh of relief, write me for samples of the way I handle such things? Perhaps your doing this might profit both of us? but if you thought otherwise, seeing these samples first need not prevent your finally dropping back into the old rut.

FIG. 1.

Artificial Legs and Arms,

WITH RUBBER FEET AND HANDS.

MARKS' IMPROVED.

Although a man may meet with the misfortune of having both of his legs severed from his body, he is not necessarily helpless. By having artificial legs applied with rubber feet attached, of Marks' patent, he can be restored to his usefulness.

Figure 1 is an instantaneous photograph of a man ascending a ladder; he has two artificial legs substituting his natural ones which were crushed by a railroad accident and amputated. Figure 2 exposes his stumps. With his rubber feet he can ascend or descend a ladder, balance himself on the rungs, and have his hands at liberty. He can work at the bench and earn a good day's wages. He can walk and mingle with persons without betraying his loss; in fact he is restored to his former self for all practical purposes.

With the old method of complicated ankle joints, these results could not be so thoroughly attained. Over twenty-two thousand in practical, successful and satisfactory use, scattered in all parts of the world. Many of these have been supplied without the wearers presenting themselves to us, simply by sending measurements on our new illustrated measuring sheet which anyone can easily fill out. The press, eminent surgeons and competent judges commend the rubber foot and hand for their remarkable advantages.

Awarded the highest prizes at every competitive exhibition.

Indorsed and purchased by the United States Government and many other governments.

A Treatise of 530 pages with 800 Illustrations sent free.

A. A. MARKS, 701 Broadway, New York.

Established 46 Years.

On June 21st, 1897, the Dominion Government passed a new tariff, By the provision of item No. 479, artificial limbs are admitted into Canada FREE OF DUTY.

INTRODUCTION.

IN placing this our second edition of the DOMINION OF CANADA GAZETTEER AND CLASSIFIED BUSINESS DIRECTORY in the hands of its patrons, we do so, confident that it will meet the requirements of business men.

Few people who refer to a Directory have any adequate idea of the many difficulties to be encountered in publishing a work of such magnitude as a thoroughly Classified Business Directory of the whole of the Dominion of Canada and the Colony of Newfoundland, a territory nearly as large as Europe, extending from the Atlantic to the Pacific Oceans and estimated to cover an area of 3,357,847 square miles.

The first section of the work is the Gazetteer, comprising pages 70 to 325, inclusive. It gives a description of every City, Town, Village and Post Office in Canada and Newfoundland.

The second section is the Classified Business portion, occupying pages 326 to the end. In this we have arranged the matter so that all those engaged in any one line of trade will be found in one list, which is alphabetically arranged by the Province and Post Office, and we can safely say this will be found to be the most complete work of the kind ever published in Canada.

The improvements in the present volume over past issues will no doubt be fully appreciated by the business public, and we can assure our patrons that we shall, in future issues, adopt all improvements in method or style which we consider would enhance the value of the Directory.

We tender our thanks to those who by their patronage and support have materially aided us in our work, also to those who kindly assisted us in collecting the information required in the preparation of the volume.

AREA, 3,480,280 SQUARE MILES. POPULATION, 6,000,000.

The Dominion of Canada is the largest of all the British possessions, and has an area nearly equal to that of Europe, or, in other words, it comprises about one-sixteenth of the land surface of the globe. It occupies the northern part of North America, with the exception of the British colony of Newfoundland, the territory of Alaska, and Greenland. The name Canada was first applied to the country by Jacques Cartier, and is supposed to be derived from an Indian word "Kannatha," meaning a village, or collection of huts. The Dominion of Canada is a confederation of the colonies of British North America, constituted in 1867 by the British North America Act of that year (30 Vic., chap. 3). The first to unite under the provisions of that statute were Upper and Lower Canada (now Ontario and Quebec), Nova Scotia and New Brunswick ; and to these have been added Manitoba and the N. W. Territories in 1870, British Columbia in 1871, and Prince Edward Island in 1873. Part of the N. W. Territories was subsequently divided into provisional districts as follows :—In 1876, Keewatin ; in 1882, Assiniboia, Saskatchewan, and Athabasca.

GEOGRAPHY AND PHYSICAL FEATURES.

Canada is bounded on the North by the Arctic Ocean ; on the South, by the United States, and the great lakes Superior, Huron, Erie, and Ontario ; on the East, by Newfoundland and the Atlantic Ocean ; and on the West, by the Pacific Ocean and Alaska. The whole country is characterized by vast lakes, rivers and plains, but, with the exception of British Columbia, it is nowhere of a strictly mountainous character. The Laurentide Range, chiefly in the basin of the River St. Lawrence, runs SW to NE, and has a total length of about 3,500 miles, and an average elevation of 1,600 feet.

CLIMATE OF CANADA.

The climate of Canada is dry, healthy and invigorating, and, owing to the great area of the country, extending over 20 degrees of latitude, or from the latitude of Constantinople to the North Pole, has a wide range of temperature. The extreme dryness of the atmosphere, however, makes both cold and heat less acutely felt than the readings of the thermometer would lead people to expect. In the Maritime Provinces the climate somewhat resembles that of the British Isles ; in Ontario, Quebec and Manitoba the summers are warm and the winters cold, but the cold is pleasant and bracing, and the snow that generally covers the ground during the winter is of the greatest benefit alike to the farmer, the lumberman and the merchant. In the North-West Territories cattle graze at large all through the winter months ; and on the Pacific slope, west of the Rocky Mountains, the climate is milder than in any other part of the Dominion.

NEW WESTMINSTER, BC, New Westminster Dist, frequently styled the Royal City, is located on the right bank of the Fraser River, about 15 miles from its mouth. Its position is charming and commanding, and is within easy distance of the Gulf of Georgia, which affords the best anchorage ground and wharfage accommodation for large ocean-going vessels. The city has made rapid progress within the last few years, its industrial, manufacturing and commercial lines are evidences of increased activity and prosperity. Manufacturers are extending and increasing their capacities, whilst new ones are in process of construction. The Fraser River salmon fisheries are amongst the leading industries. The yearly yield is astonishing; in 1899 the salmon pack totalled 488,000 cases of 4 dozen cans each. This represents a catch of 5,856,000 salmon, and as the packing season rarely extends over six weeks, it may be readily surmised how perfect are the packing facilities. About 10,000 men are engaged in this industry at a yearly cost of $2,000,000. Next to the salmon fisheries comes the lumber. Already there are four very extensive saw mills within the city limits: those of the Royal City Planing Mill, Ross Saw Mill Company, McLaren's Mill, and the Pacific Coast Lumber Company. Steamers ply between this city and Victoria, Chilliwack and Hope. The CPR and GNR touch here, so it will be seen that the shipping facilities and means of transportation enjoyed by the Royal City will not be excelled by any other on the Pacific Coast. New Westminster's position is such that its future prosperity is assured. It is in the heart of the best agricultural section of the Province, 12 miles from Vancouver, with which it is connected by electric cars. It has an excellent system of waterworks (costing $250,000), by gravitation from a mountain lake ten miles distant. The city owns and controls the electric light and water franchises, owns the whole of the water frontage, and has seventy-five acres of land within the corporate limits, reserved for sites for manufacturing establishments, which will be leased for a term of years at a nominal rental, exempt from taxation. VANCOUVER, B.C.

NO city on the continent is more beautifully or conveniently situated than Vancouver. Located on the southern shore of Burrard Inlet, with False Creek, an arm of the sea, running farup into the centre of the corporation limits, it is thus furnished with an almost unlimited harbor accommodation. The mountains across the inlet, rising to the height of five or six thousand feet, lend sublimity and grandeur to the scene. Occupying as it does the gateway of trade between the East and West, being the natural outfitting port for the Klondike and Atlin, its streets, wharves and railway stations are scenes of bustle and business activity. It is the western terminus of the C.P.R. Co.'s Transcontinental Railway and a magnificent mail line of steamers trading to China and Japan, and also of a line of large iron steamers plying between Vancouver and Australia.

In its harbor are to be seen ships from all parts of the world. From its commanding situation, its safe and commodious harbors, it is without doubt the coming city of the west coast of the Continent of America. Reliable authorities have estimated the value of the business blocks and residences erected during 1898 at $1,000,000, and for the current year $1,250,000.

The civic income for 1898 was $436,102 and expenditure $427,683. Assessed value $14,948,519. Population 30,000.

Some idea of the trade of the city may be gathered from the fact that the bank clearances for the eight months ending June 30, 1899, amounted to $23,049,790, the amount for June being $3,768,864. These returns show a rapid and steady increase.

As an evidence of the financial standing of the city it is only necessary to cite the fact that the last sale of 3½ per cent. bonds of the city realized 96.50, the money thus costing 3.62 per cent. interest.

For a city of its years it has exceptional educational facilities. It has a large and well equipped High School with an efficient staff of teachers. This school is now in affiliation with McGill University, Montreal. There are five large and commodious Public Schools, with 3,000 pupils and 65 teachers. The value of school property in January, 1899, was $318,300. Beside these there are several very good Private Schools and two efficient Commercial Colleges.

The city is well supplied with Churches, as follows: Church of England, 4; Presbyterian, 4; Methodist, 3; Baptist, 3; Roman Catholic, 1; Congregational, 1; Lutheran, 1. There is also a branch of the Salvation Army.

Provision has been made for the sick and afflicted by a well furnished and equipped City Hospital, directly under the control of the City Council, St. Paul's Hospital, under the management of the Roman Catholic Church, and St. Luke's Hospital, in connection with St. James' Episcopal Church. Under this head may also be mentioned the Alexandra Orphanage, a home for destitute and orphan children, which is doing a good work.

The City of Vancouver is abundantly supplied with water of the finest quality from the Capilano River, a rapid mountain stream which rises in the range north of Burrard Inlet, and, flowing south for about 30 miles, empties into the Inlet at the Narrows or entrance. The fall in the river is about 60 feet to the mile and the water, most of which is from melted snow, flowing over the clean gravel and boulders in the bed of the stream, becomes thoroughly aerated and palatable.

The supply is taken 6¼ miles from the mouth, at an elevation of 417 feet above high-water mark, and conducted in a 22-inch rivetted steel main about 2½ miles to the Canon, where a tunnel is made through a rocky ledge for about 500 feet. From thence a 16-inch (and a 22-inch in process of construction) main of the same material conveys the water to the shore of Burrard Inlet at the first Narrows or entrance to the harbor.

The route of the pipe line is along the valley of the Capilano, and a good wagon road extends the whole distance, giving prompt access to the pipe line and incidentally to some delightful scenery.

Four 12-inch cast iron mains with flexible joints convey the water across the Narrows, and the laying of these pipes is quite a difficult piece of engineering work on account of the velocity of the tide and depth of the water.

On the south side of the Narrows, through Stanley Park and along Pender and Georgia Streets as far as Westminster Ave., 16 and 22-inch steel rivetted mains extend, connected with a reservoir constructed on the highest point of the Park, 245 feet above high-water mark and containing 10,000,000 gals. imperial.

There are about 60 miles of distribution pipes of cast iron from 4-inch to 12-inch diameter connected to these steel mains for supplying the various parts of the city besides a large quantity of temporary pipes of smaller sizes.

The present number of hydrants is 250 and the number of services to private consumers over 4,000, while the yearly revenue from these is about $60,000, and the value of the water supplied for city purposes about $16,000.

The Works were originally built by a company and were taken over by the city in 1892 at a cost of $440,000, but they have been to a great extent rebuilt and extended, so that the present cost is nearly a million dollars ($100,000 being spent in 1899).

Under the city's management, however, the rates have been greatly reduced and the services increased from 1,400 in 1892 to 4,200 at the end of 1899.

THE CITY OF VICTORIA.

The capital of British Columbia is the most beautifully situated of any of the great commercial centres of the Pacific Coast. It is situated on the southeastern extremity of Vancouver Island, and is surrounded by the exquisite scenery of the Straits of St Juan de Fuca, the key of the inlet that fosters the sister cities of Tacoma, Seattle and Port Townsend, in the State of Washington, as well as the cities of British Columbia. The year 1862 saw the old Hudson's Bay trading post obliterated, and in its place there rose a municipality that is designated to-day as "the solid Commercial City of the Pacific," a city of 25,000 inhabitants, and one in which every phase of modern civilization finds a places, and enhances materially the gifts with which nature has so lavishly endowed her.

The importance of the geographical position of Victoria cannot be one whit overestimated. With a safe and well-nigh land-locked harbor, she bids to her doors the immense trade that is springing up between Canada and Britain's vast dominions in the Orient. A powerful line of fast steamships, increasing in number every year, throws a girdle over the wide Pacific that is but a water highway of the C.P.R. Across this girdle the wealth of India and China are but now beginning to pour into our Dominion, and who can gauge the fast growing importance of the city through which such a volume of trade must necessarily flow ?

Of all the cities on the Pacific Coast, Victoria stands alone in her freedom from any of the "booms" that have of late years swept continuously from San Diego to Vancouver and back, but she stands to-day, built up stone on stone—a solid tribute to the energy and stability of her citizens since the days when the scene of all her present prosperity was partly but a forest of giant trees.

And now for figures. The following report of the Customs Department for the last fiscal year should be read carefully :—

Imports.

For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1899	$3,050,529
Entered for consumption	3,029,347
Duties for same period	805,776

Exports.

Same period	$1,734,930
Revenue from Chinese	145,300

The Municipal Council of the city, a body made up year after year from the ranks of Victoria's most enterprising citizens, is at present composed as follows :—

Mayor—Charles E. Redfern.

Aldermen—John Kinsman, Thos. A. Brydon, J. L. Beckwith, R. T. Williams, Alexander Stewart, P. C. MacGregor, William Humphrey, Charles Hayward and W. G. Cameron.

It will be interesting to note carefully the following statement. The facts therein prove conclusively how high Victoria stands among her rivals and how solid her prosperity really is.

The assessed real property amounts to $17,066,004 ; exempted realty, $2,701,630. This valuation, it must be understood, is simply an appraised amount for purposes of taxation, and does not represent the actual realty values.

The total amount of the city's indebtedness, as per debentures issued, is $1,711,500, and to meet this there is a sinking fund on hand of $221,655.05. When the value of the city corporation property in land and buildings is joined to this and other assets, such as the waterworks and the electric lighting plant, it will be seen that Victoria is practically free from debt.

The waterworks system, valued at $1,000,000, has been the object of special care, and the result is that few, if any, of the cities of the Dominion are better catered to in this respect. By an outlay of over $100,000 filter beds, with accompanying reservoir, were constructed at the source of supply, and at the present time all the water delivered to the city is purified by perfect filtration. The area of the reservoir and filter beds is three and one-half acres. The revenue derivable from the waterworks reached last year the sum of $59,378.52.

The revenue of the city for the year 1898 was $453,403.86, and the expenditure $435,377.24, while the real property owned by the corporation aggregates half a million of dollars.

Victoria's growth during the past ten years has been most marked, and the efforts of her citizens during that time have been characterized by a business push and public spirit that have quite eclipsed the efforts of all previous years. The buildings erected and repairs made during that time cost over $4,821,900, an amount of money that tells its own tale.

This amount only partially includes the new Parliament buildings, which are estimated to cost in the neighborhood of $1,000,000, and which for architectural beauty and completeness of interior and exterior finish and design are not surpassed by any buildings on the continent. This, with the new postoffice building, is a credit to any city, the former, with its museum and other features, adding greatly to the attractions of the city.

In its telegraphic and telephonic systems the city possesses two of the most admirably worked and perfectly regulated adjuncts of civilization that can be found anywhere. It would be difficult to find on the continent a metropolis better lighted than she is to-day. The streets are lighted by 235 lamps covering a large area, over which 83 miles of wire are stretched, fed by electricity from the central power station, containing six dynamos and a 300 H.P. engine, the electric light station itself being a substantial brick building, capable of enlargement, as the occasion may require.

The Fire Department is one of the most efficient on the Pacific Coast, established on the part paid and part call system. Three steam fire engines, two chemicals, one hook and ladder truck, several hose reels, etc., belong to the department. There are three stations, situated in different parts of the city, all of which are connected by fire alarm system with every section of the city, thus affording first-class protection from fire. During the past year a system of permanent sidewalks and street paving has been inaugurated and is now being vigorously carried on, with the result that the central portion of the city has been greatly improved in appearance, and the value of property consequently enhanced.

An electric tramway traverses all the leading thoroughfares of the city, both within and without the city limits, and enables anyone to reach easily the numerous suburban villas, which are famed for picturesque beauty.

The press of Victoria is well represented. There are three daily newspapers, two weeklies, and other publications taking the form of periodicals.

The educational system is an excellent one. Free unsectarian schools and thoroughly qualified teachers offer every inducement to the spread of education. Handsome, commodious schoolhouses and attractive grounds are important features of this ingredient of a city's welfare.

Special mention should be made of the admirable separate system of sewerage commenced in 1890 by an outlay of $300,000, when the mains were constructed, which system has since been extended from year to year. The whole of the business portion and part of the residential is sewered, and it is only a question of time when mains and connections will be laid on every street of the city. By an expenditure of not less than $200,000 the low-lying portions of the city have been greatly improved by the construction of large-size surface drains.

The city enjoys the most salubrious climate of any spot in the Dominion of Canada, being more equable, it is said, than even the south of England. Tempered, as it is, by the warm current of the Pacific Ocean, extremes of heat and cold are almost entirely unknown.

As Victoria, from an artistic standpoint, is the bright gem of the Pacific, so is Beacon Hill Park the fairest jewel in the crown of Victoria herself. A public playground, it stands overlooking a vista that it is hard to equal and impossible to excel. Nature and art, hand in hand, have combined to place it among the foremost "beauty spots" on earth.

There are five chartered banks doing business in the city. The city is noted also for the number and elegance of its churches.

A great factor in the growth of Victoria, and one that must not be overlooked here, is the salmon industry. The city is the distributing centre for the whole of the vast canning interests of the Province, and this year several hundred thousand cases were sent away from her wharves to every quarter of the globe. The sealing industry has long made its centre at Victoria, and although somewhat reduced of late, owing to international considerations, is still an important factor in the trade of the city. In addition to these elements of prosperity, the discoveries of extensive deposits of gold, silver and copper, principally of gold and copper, on Vancouver Island and the other islands along the coast, and the development of these deposits have awakened interest everywhere, and have been the cause of attracting numbers of capitalists and mining men to this section of the country, who have made their headquarters at Victoria. It has also stimulated largely enterprise in this direction among the residents of this city, with the result that many of them have acquired collectively in companies or individually valuable interests in mining properties which will eventually prove highly remunerative. In fact, situated, as it is, on Vancouver Island, and being the capital of the Province, this city cannot fail to reap largely the benefit of the extensive development which is now taking place on Vancouver Island and in the northern gold fields, the trade to and from which is being largely controlled by merchants and transportation companies which have their headquarters in Victoria.
